

1 ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

2 An extension cord assembly has a housing composed of a front casing and a rear 3 casing, and two bases respectively and rotatably provided at opposite sides of the 4 housing, wherein each base has multiple sockets formed thereon. Since the bases are 5 rotatable, the base is able to be turned to a desired position to allow any plug to be easily 6 inserted into the sockets on the bases.
